

“The Promise of Oregon” toolkit for board members

How can local school board members get involved?

- Pass a resolution in support of the campaign. Suggested wording can be found in this toolkit.
- Encourage district administrators to visit the campaign website and engage staff and students at the school-site level.
- Ask your superintendent to place the campaign poster, being mailed to districts the week of Dec. 1, at prominent sites in your schools.
- Encourage your administrators to create moments of celebration, such as having your schools and district identify a “Promise Kid” of the week. Many of these young people will be featured on “The Promise of Oregon” website.
- Post your own photo with the “Promise” placard (“I’m keeping The Promise of Oregon”) on social media, such as your Facebook page. You can find a PDF of the placard in this toolkit.
- Load the campaign banner onto your Facebook page and encourage your friends to do so.
- Discuss the campaign with friends and at community gatherings and service clubs. Remind people of how public education shaped your life, and theirs.
- Send emails or make phone calls to your state representative and state senator, reminding them of how much Oregon’s future depends on our commitment to public education.
- Ask your superintendent to send a press release to local media when you pass a resolution or the campaign features a “Promise Kid” from your district.
- Ask your superintendent to encourage administrators to place the campaign ads in school newsletters, local papers, in social media, or print them as flyers.
- Connect with NSBA’s national campaign at <http://standup4publicschools.org>
- Have questions? Email us at info@promiseoregon.org. We’re glad to help!
